

Several members of pro-Communist groups in Singapore which were disrupted in the 1970s joined the CPM radio station, Voice of Malayan Revolution (VMR), which was located in Changsha, China. The red-brick building housed the VMR offices and the white one was the recording block.